STRONG FOUNDATIONS FUTURE

ABOUT US

The National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC) was founded in 1953 as "Women in Construction of Fort Worth" by 16 women in Fort Worth, Texas, to provide support and networking opportunities within the male-dominated construction industry. It gained its national charter in 1955 and has since grown to over 140 chapters across the United States, with international affiliations as well.

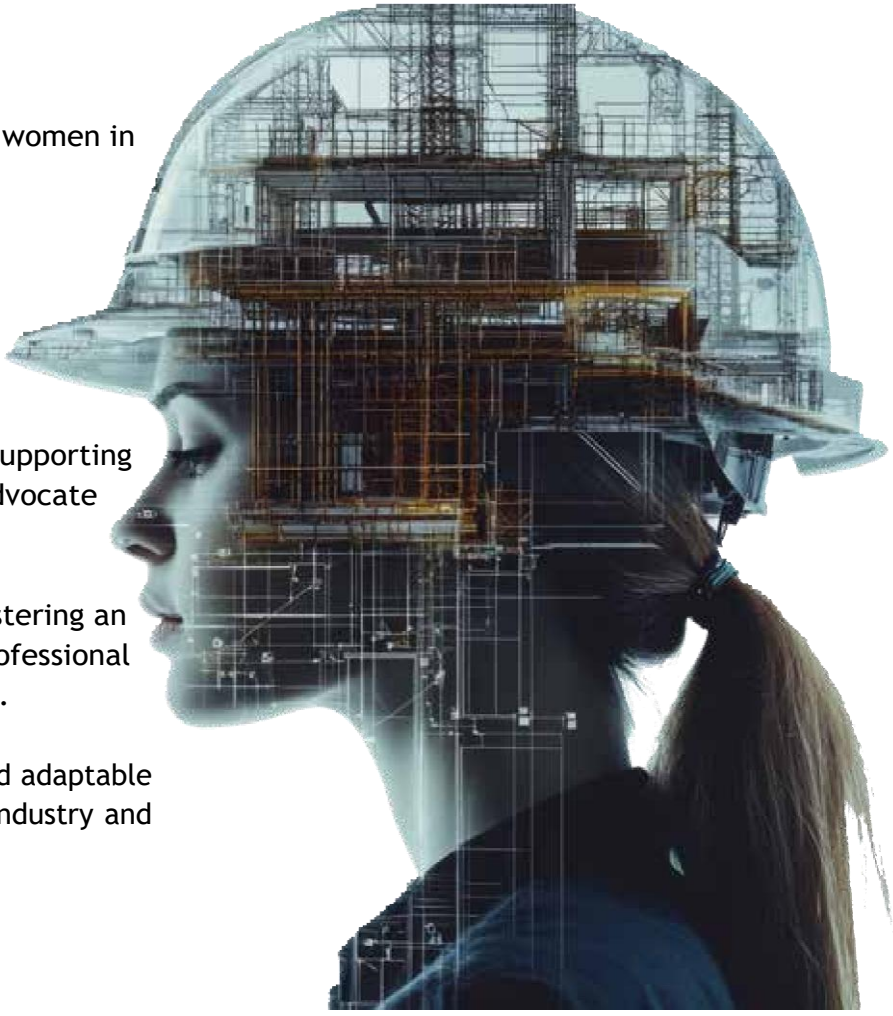
The Greater Little Rock Chapter is the 12th chapter chartered of the National Association of Women in Construction (NAWIC). Our chartering occurred August 16, 1958.

Mission Statement

The association committed to championing women to impact the direction of the construction industry. NAWIC provides education, community, and advocacy for women.

Core Purpose

To strengthen and amplify the success of women in the construction industry.



Core Values

Women-focused: Prioritizing the needs and advancement of women in construction.

Courageous leadership: Encouraging and supporting women to take on leadership roles and advocate for change.

Commitment to inclusion and growth: Fostering an inclusive environment that promotes professional development and growth for all members.

Anticipate change: Remaining proactive and adaptable to the evolving needs of the construction industry and its workforce.

REQUIREMENTS AND REGULATIONS

The NAWIC Scholarship was established with a clear vision: to empower women in pursuing careers in construction. Recognizing the vital role that the construction industry plays in shaping our communities and driving economic growth, NAWIC Greater Little Rock Chapter 12 (NGLRC12) aims to support aspiring women who demonstrate passion, dedication, and potential in this field.

By providing financial assistance the NGLRC12 seeks to break down barriers and create pathways for talented women to thrive in the construction sector. Ultimately, the foundation's efforts are geared towards fostering a skilled female workforce, promoting innovation, and building a brighter future for both women and the industry as a whole.

Mission

The association committed to championing women to impact the direction of the construction industry. NAWIC provides education, community, and advocacy for women.
